WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

It gives me immense pleasure to welcome you all to the Asian Society for Vascular Surgery (ASVS) Annual Conference 2026, to be held in the vibrant capital city of New Delhi, India, from October 8–10, 2026, at Hotel Pullman and Novotel, Aerocity.

This landmark event is being curated as a confluence of premier vascular gatherings—bringing together ASVS and VSICON under one banner for the second time. With this unique fusion, we aim to create an unparalleled scientific experience, offering a comprehensive platform for knowledge exchange, innovation, and collaboration across Asia and beyond.

The conference promises a power-packed academic agenda, led by globally renowned faculty, thought leaders, and innovators in the field of vascular and endovascular surgery. In addition to the robust scientific sessions, the event will offer interactive workshops, live case demonstrations, and ample opportunities for young surgeons to showcase their research and connect with mentors.

We are excited to host you in New Delhi, a city that beautifully blends heritage with modernity. With warm Indian hospitality, world-class infrastructure, and a rich cultural backdrop, your time here will be as enriching socially as it is scientifically.

On behalf of the Vascular Society of India and the ASVS 2026 Organising Committee, I extend a heartfelt invitation to join us in making this conference a truly memorable one.

Warm regards,

Dr. Tapish Sahu
